Program Description

This retreat is specifically designed for professionals involved in mindfulness-based approaches, whether as teachers, trainers, psychotherapists, clinicians or researchers. A minimum requirement for attendance is prior completion of a recognized eight-week mindfulness course, or prior retreat experience together with a professional involvement with mindfulness. The teachers of this retreat are all involved in training mindfulness-based professionals or in teaching mindfulness.

The course is not a professional training, but rather an invitation to extend and deepen personal experience of insight meditation, which is rooted in the cultivation of mindfulness. Retreatants will explore the Four Establishments of Mindfulness as taught in the Satipaṭṭhāna, the foundational teachings of all contemporary mindfulness-based applications. These teachings offer a path to freedom and compassion, and encourage the integration of contemplative wisdom into the fabric of our daily lives.

Each day will offer a sustained schedule of guided and unguided meditation practice, meetings with the teachers, talks and reflections, all within an environment of silence. An optional daily period of mindful movement will be offered by the teachers. When registering, please indicate your personal and professional involvement with mindfulness.

At the end of this course, participants will be able to: 1) define mindfulness meditation; 2) utilize and strengthen their quality of concentration; 3) utilize a strong, developed quality of balanced observing awareness, which will in turn help augment the therapy/training given to clients in the professional setting; 4) strengthen their capacity to assess and advise clients as to the appropriateness of mindfulness practice for them; 5) identify and mitigate mental, emotional and physical distress by developing non-judging attention, which will assist in working professionally with human suffering; 6) re-direct unwholesome mental tendencies towards deepening compassionate connection to self, others, and our world; 7) explain the roots of secular mindfulness-based applications in Buddhist psychology and understanding.

The format will include 25 hours of guided meditations, talks, instruction, small group meetings, and Q and A sessions led by the teachers. There will also be periods of meditation and silent practice of the principles being taught (including during meals). Although much of the culture and atmosphere at IMS reflects the Buddhist meditative tradition, this retreat is non-sectarian and does not require any adherence to Buddhism or any other adaptation of personal faith.

Faculty

Akincano Marc Weber is a Buddhist teacher and contemplative psychotherapist. He learned to sit still in the early eighties as a Zen practitioner and later became a monk in Ajahn Chah's tradition where he studied and practiced for 20 years. He studies Pali and early Buddhist scriptures, holds a degree in Mindfulness-Based Psychotherapy, and runs Atammaya Cologne, a small Buddhist center in the Rhineland. He teaches Buddhist Psychology and meditation internationally in Dharma contexts and applied mindfulness in healthcare settings. His latest co-project is Bodhi College.

His particular psychotherapeutic background is an extensive training in a mindfulness-based contemplative psychotherapy called Core Process Psychotherapy and the practice of Focusing. He has an MA in Mindfulness-Based Psychotherapeutic Practice, is an accredited member of the profession in England's UK Council for Psychotherapy (UKCP) and the Association of Core Process Practitioners (ACPP).

Yuka Nakamura has practiced Buddhist meditation in different traditions since 1993. She has a PhD in Developmental Psychology, and is a certified MBSR teacher. Based in Switzerland, she was trained as a Buddhist meditation teacher by Fred von Allmen and teaches at Beatenberg (Switzerland), Gaia House (UK), Insight Meditation Society (Barre, MA), and other places. She is co-founder and teacher at the CFM Zentrum für Achtsamkeit in Zurich and faculty member for the Bodhi College teacher training program.

Christiane Wolf, MD, PhD, received her medical degree and completed her postgraduate training in obstetrics and gynecology from Humboldt University in Berlin, Germany. She also holds a PhD in Psychosomatic Medicine from Humboldt University.

Christiane has practiced mindfulness meditation for 30 years, is a senior certified Mindfulness-Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) trainer, and is on faculty for the Center for Mindfulness, University of Massachusetts Medical School. She is a graduate of the 4-year IMS/Spirit Rock teacher training, and is authorized to teach in the Thai Forest Monastery tradition. She is the Director of MBSR programs at InsightLA, and is program director and lead instructor for VA CALM, the national mindfulness facilitator training program for clinicians at the US Department of Veterans Affairs.
